

What is the Treatment for a Stroke?

Because their mechanisms are different, the treatment for the types of stroke is different: Ischemic stroke is treated by removing the obstruction and restoring blood flow to the brain. In hemorrhagic stroke, doctors attempt to prevent rupture and bleeding of aneurysms and blood vessel malformations. More information Link to <http://ww2.heartandstroke.ca>